“The best way to predict the future is to create it.” (Abraham Lincoln)

Do not miss your chance to create the future of Northern Europe – participate in the Fehmarnbelt Days, 26th – 28th September in Hamburg and Lübeck; inspired by Abraham Lincoln’s famous quote above.

Large infrastructure investments, such as the Fehmarnbelt Fixed Link and the connecting rail and road systems on the German and Danish side of the link, will inevitably boost the areas’ connectivity – presenting new opportunities for collaboration, best- practice exchange and vast regional growth. The Fehmarnbelt Days are an opportunity for hundreds of decision makers to jointly set out the future for the West Baltic Area; from Southern Sweden over Denmark, to Northern Germany.

A series of high-level meetings and conferences constitute a first-rate event, aimed at those involved in aspects of politics, economics, business, sustainability, science and culture in Sweden, Denmark and Germany – a well as neighboring regions.

In order to create a varied and diverse event, we welcome interested parties to contribute to the event through arranging conferences, meetings or presentations. As such, the program is currently being developed to assure the highest standard possible.

Do not miss this opportunity to be a part of one of Northern Europe’s most influential development days – announce your interest now!
